SWOT Analysis
Strengths
Successfully completed an Initial Public Offering (IPO) and listed on the Main Market of Bursa Malaysia, raising substantial capital.
Robust outstanding order book standing at approximately RM440 million, providing healthy revenue visibility over the next 22 months.
Weaknesses
Experienced negative cash flows from operating activities due to timing differences between project execution/billings and machinery capital expenditures.
Effective tax rate significantly higher than the statutory rate due to non-deductible expenses.
Opportunities
Favorable macroeconomic tailwinds, including projected growth in Malaysia's construction GDP and regional expansion opportunities in Singapore.
Deployment of IPO proceeds towards capital expenditures and working capital to scale up foundation and geotechnical service operations.
Threats
Rising prices of construction materials like ready-mix concrete, which could potentially compress profit margins.
Intense industry competition and broader economic uncertainties affecting the construction and property development sector.
